	Approved For Release 2003/08/96##PA-HDP80-00810A002200060025-4
COUNTRY_	Rumania SECURITY INFORMATION REPORT NO
TOPIC	R manian Troops and Military Installations in Lugoj 25X1
10110
	25X1 PLACE OBTAINED 25X1
EVALUATION	and on to June 1062
DATE OF C	UNIENI
DATE OBTA
REFERENCE	ES - Francisco de la companya del companya del companya de la comp
PAGES 2	FNCLOSURES (NO. & TYPE)
	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·
REMARKS_
	The second secon
	The state of the s
 	Prior to June 1952, no Rumanian troops were stationed at Lugoj (R 25/U 50). Nor wa and one artillery unit of about 12 guns equipped with solid tires and towed partly by four-horse teams and partly by six-horse teams. He estimated the size of these guns towed by six-horse teams at 150-mm. In late 1951,
2.	barracks installations at the railroad station. not specify the location barracks installations at the railroad station not specify the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit 25 It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse barracks installations at the railroad station. In not specify the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the barracks installations at the railroad station. In not specify the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks buildings. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carr barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caransa (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carried packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caransa (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carrifield packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of sairfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195
	barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carr field packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about 15 barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caranse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounded the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carried packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about 18 upstream from the swimming place on the west bank. Extensive construction work was flore at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timisoara (R 16
	barracks installations at the railroad station. In the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caransel (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounded the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carried packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about in the state of the summing place on the west bank. Extensive construction work was done at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timisoara (R 16 and 1) apposite the sleughterhouse.
	barracks installations at the railroad station. Incomplete the location the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Garansel (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of lugoj. Low wooden buildings aurrounded the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carrifield packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about limits at a site north of the city, on the east bank of the river, about limits at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timisoara (R 16 T 91), opposite the slaughterhouse. In not know whether new barracks 25 installations or settlement apartments were under construction at this site.
1 3.	barracks installations at the railroad station. In the quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Caransel (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carrield packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about it upstream from the swimming place on the west bank. Extensive construction work was done at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timisoara (R 16 T 91), opposite the slaughterhouse barracks installations at the railroad station. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. The quarters of the artillery Barracks on the road to Garansel (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non-motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounded the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carrifield packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of airfield and in the hilly terrain north of the Catholic chapel. In early June 195 a military cantonment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about it upstream from the swimming place on the west bank. Extensive construction work was done at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timisoara (R 16 T 91), opposite the slaughterhouse. The provided the provided by the army, and the provided by the army, and argaritescu, (fnu), a former Rumanian cavalry officer side-tracked by the army, was a former Rumanian cavalry officer side-tracked by the army, and are a side to the provided by the army, and are a side to the army, and are army.
(1 3,	barracks installations at the railroad station.
	barracks installations at the railroad station. The quarters of the artillery and the AT unit. It was common knowledge that the former Artillery Barracks on the road to Garanse (R 25/Z 76), near the railroad bridge over the Timisul River, was occupied by non motorized Rumanian troops. Rumanian border guard troops were observed in the former Cavalry Barracks northeast of the city, on the south side of the road to Faget, which was located 28 km northeast of Lugoj. Low wooden buildings surrounde the old barracks building. Detachments of up to 15 border guard soldiers who carr field packs and rifles were frequently seen marching from this installation to the railroad station. The border guard troops held practices on the southern edge of a military cantoment, from which soldiers with pneumatic boats came to the Timisul River, was southeast of the city, on the east bank of the river, about it upstream from the swimming place on the west bank. Extensive construction work we done at a site north of the city, on the east side of the road to Timiscara (R 16 T 91), opposite the slaughterhouse. In the construction at this site. In tactical headquarters or command agency in a separate twitting. Margaritescu, (fmu), a former Rumanian cavalry officer side-tracked by the army, was stationed at the post. In billets of military labor units in the post area.

					25)	X1	•
٠		CONFI	dential_				•
					C.S.	2 -		25X1	l
25X1	4. Prior to June 1952, no security troops quartered in barracks were stationed at Lugoj. The former women's school in the city sector west of the Timisul River quartered a militia school of 300 to 400 men, who were at least 25-year=old veterans. Their training focussed on Marxist Leninist indoctrination and included only limited military training.
	5.	A supply depot, which was guarded by troops, was in a small woods about 2 km northwest of the railroad station. Horse-drawn army vehicles were frequently in the installation which, local residents said, was an ammunition depot.
25X1	6.	In May 1952, Muntele Mic (F of 1951, an ai members of a 1 the area 3 or	ir force de Labor batte	stachment Llion wer	cordoned was on t e observe	off by his moun d doing	tain. At th	the summer nat time,	in
								•
		1
								,
				•
								•
· •
•	•						5X1			